ALBERTO MANZI
1924 - 1997

- Alberto Manzi was born in 1924 in Rome
- In 1942 he received his diploma as nautical engineer as well as school teacher
- This dual approach: technical-scientific and pedagogical, would mark the entire life span of Alberto Manzi, helping to define his educational proposal.
- Participation at the II World as a submariner
- After the war , he graduated in biology
- Alberto Manzi began his activity as a teacher (Maestro) - or as one could say as many teachers - as well a writer for children

The prison teacher

- Manzi's first experience as teacher is in a juvenile prison in Rome, at the re-education institution Aristide Gabelli
- From 1946 - 47 he had to teach 90 students, ages 9 to 17, 18 of them analphabets
- As he told Roberto Farné in an interview in 1997, he earned the right to do school challenging the head of the group of the boys with fists (good TV teacher, The Alberto Manzi lesson). The results were remarkable.
- At Gabelli , Manzi made a monthly newspaper, the first of its kind in a reformatory, and in collaboration with the young prisoners, was born the story of Grogh from which would come out the first novel: Grogh , the story of a beaver , published by Bompiani in 1950 and translated in 28 languages.

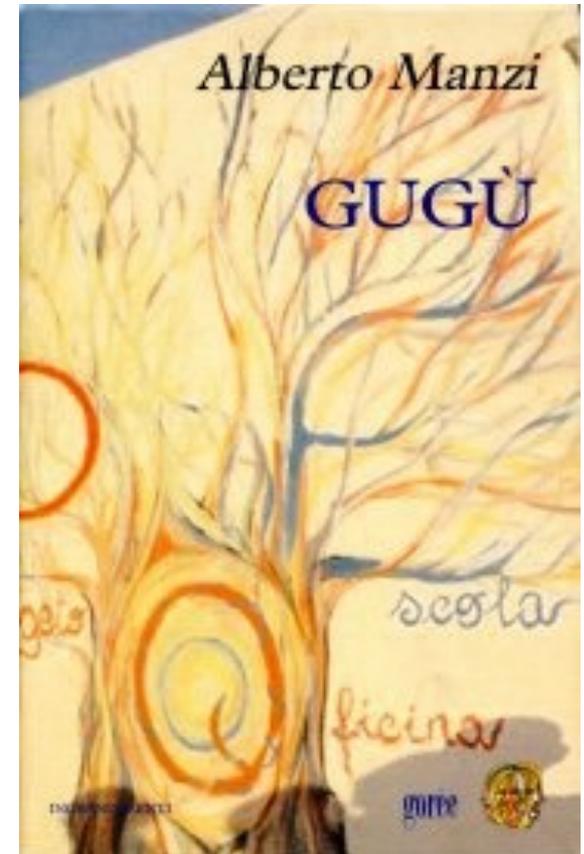

Teacher of the poor

- The first half of the fifties represented an important moment of transition in the biography of Manzi. After the Roman experience in the reformatory Aristide Gabelli, he taught in Campagnano di Roma, as he prepared for his second degree in pedagogy, later specializing in psychology.
- In the early fifties, he is dedicated to the problems of education of the popular classes, and specifically to what had always been the crucial and unresolved issue of the modern and national educational system : the remoteness of rural areas, the its inaccessibility. To the problem of rural schools, Manzi dedicated his notes, like 1950 the open letter to the Minister of Education and the 2 pages of “Thoughts to a school of today”.

Teacher in south america

- Surely a central event of those years, was the trip to Latin America.
- In the summer of 1955 by the University of Geneva, Manzi received a commission for scientific research in the Amazon rainforest. He went to study the ants, he would find out a lot more.
- It was the revelation of the social conditions of the rural Latin American world between the Andes and the Amazonas, and the beginning of a relationship, not without dangers, which would last for over twenty years
- From then on, every summer, Manzi would go to teach 'the Indians' reading and writing, first alone and then with a group of college students.

- The 'maestero' drew up a real program for the education for Latin American peasants and in its activities could count on the support of the Pontifical Salesian University.
- Accused from the governments of Peru and Bolivia of being a "Guevarist," he was considered "a persona non grata" and denied entering the countries. He will return to these places clandestinely, until 1984.
- Of that experience is left four novels:
- The moon in the barracks (1974) and El loco (1979) published by Salani,
- And it came Saturday and Gugù, published post hum in 2005 (Iesa, Monticiani).

Teacher in Television

- All this first phase of he's educational activities culminated in 1960 with the famous transmission It is never too late(1960-1968).

The director of RAI was looking for a teacher to teach adult analphabets. The idea of the program and title was from the ten general director of public education.

IT IS NEVER TO LATE is considered to be one of the most important pedagogical experiments in adult education. He taught reading and writing to more than one million of Italians

In 1965, It is never too late was awarded in Tokyo, on indication from UNESCO, as one of the most successful television programs in the fight against illiteracy

- In 1987 Manzi was called from the Argentinean government for a 60 hours training course for university professors in order to elaborate a “National Plan for Literacy” based on the experience Non è mai troppo tardi
- Two years later Argentina received the international prize for the best literacy program in all South America from the United Nations

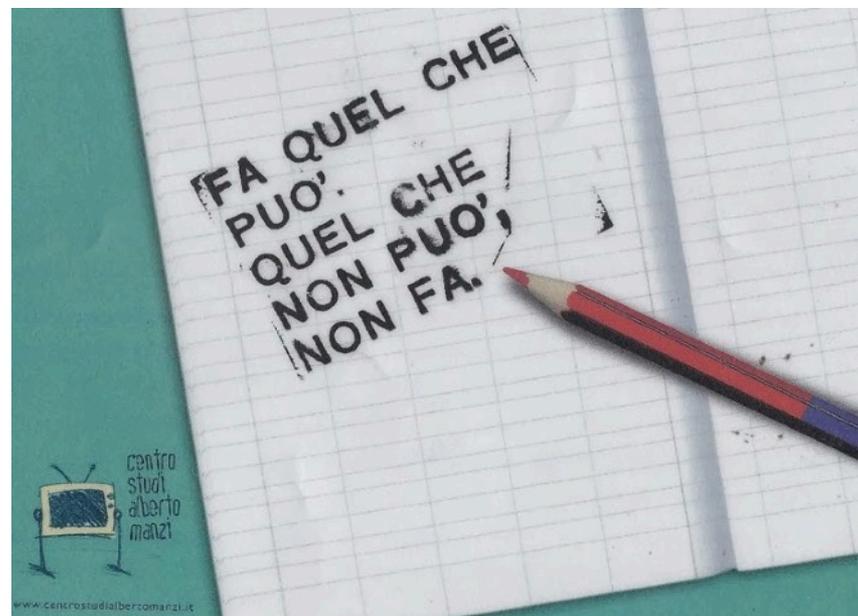

Teacher in Radio

- In 1951 Manzi won a radio award for a children's play presented on the radio. Since then he had a collaboration with "the radio for schools", for forty years, from 1956 to 1996. 1951 he had already realized a novel with the narrative contributions of the young listeners, which was entitled "The Treasure of ZI CESAREO".
- He had understood the potential of radio which was ideal to stimulate imagination and creativity.
- He was author of various transmissions and he also wrote and reworked fairy tales for children.
- In 1996, the 40 transmissions of "Curiosities of Italian Language" for Italians abroad and foreigners learning the Italian Language, were his last collaboration with Radio Rai

Return to school

- The school where Alberto Manzi returned at the end of his television experience was the same where he was already teaching for years and where he would remain until the achievement of the pension, Istituto Fratelli Bandiera in Rome.
- Manzi's teaching was based on the idea that the student does not come to class with an empty head, ready to be filled by the master, and that teaching means at the same time content delivery and refutation of false beliefs.
- Manzi wants to transform the school in respect of the child. In June 1975, teacher in elementary school, he refused to classify the students and explained the reasons for his decision: classify meant "to prevent a conscious learning, obliging to accept established definitions, educating to lies and falsehood ..."
- In 1977, Law No. 517 of August 4 imposed on teachers of elementary school the personal evaluation form of pupils. The teacher was required to fill out and keep updated a document had to be reported, "with systematic observations", the maturation levels reached by children.

- The following year Manzi explained to the head master that he would complete the II quarter assessments only if they would demonstrate the validity of the vote and the classification in the growth process "in intelligence, in solidarity, in friendship" of the pupils.
- Alberto Manzi refused to fill out the evaluation forms and for two consecutive years, devised a stamp " DOES WHAT HE CAN. WHAT HE CAN'T HE DOES NOT DO. "
- From 1978 to 1980 he didn't follow the Ministry request.
- Was referred to the Disciplinary Board of the Authority of Rome and was suspended from teaching for two months and half his salary was cutted.

MANZI AS A WRITER

- A few years later Grogh Manzi writes Orzowei , for certain the most successful book of the author; won the Andersen Prize in 1956, re-edited by Bompiani in the same year after leaving in 1955 to Vallecchi and translated into 32 languages.

Orzowei, "the foundling" is the derogatory nickname of Isa, a white boy abandoned and growing up in a village of the Zulù tribe. His will be the fate of a man doubly excluded. Cast out from the world who also had welcomed lost child, Isa is closed to a return to the white community.

Orzowei was an immense international success. In 1980, Rai will obtain 13 episodes and a film version. The theme song was played on 33 and 45. Thanks to this, Isa the Orzowei "... rejected by all and died with the hope that whites and blacks one day could live together and get along beyond the skin color and the tribe ...", reached a resounding success, becoming the hero of a generation.

Manzi is one of the most important Italian writers for youth, he writes numerous tales and books with ricorrent topics that are still important in our days: the relationship of men with their environment, values of freedom and solidarity, the refusal of any form of violence and racism.
